Filing Nomination Papers At The Secretary
Of State's Office Opens Fight.

MANAGERS CLAIM DECIDED VICTORY

Movement Backed By The Business Men Takes Definite Form In Bringing About Campaign For State Delegation.

EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.
Madison, Wis., March 18.—With the announcement late yesterday of the large nominating petitions of the candidates for delegates at large and from the congressional districts of Wisconsin to the national republican convention in favor of the nomination of William H. Taft of Ohio for the presidency, the Taft movement in this state was given an impetus, said to be the signal for the beginning of a systematic canvass which will end with election day, April 7.

It is said that by reason of the advanced state of the organization perfected by the La Follette people after many months of careful, secret planning and hired publicity work, there is no serious claim made that the entire delegation of this state will be in favor of Taft, but it is no longer denied by the La Follette people in earnestness that this state will fall to lend at least some support to the loaded wagon upon which the big secretary of war is already riding.

A few weeks ago, directly after the announcement of the personnel of the Taft candidature, it was claimed that in only one or two districts of the state was there any question about the election of the La Follette delegates. However, it is certain that the prospect is now so serious that several districts are worrying the headquarters of the senator's boom.

Added efforts are to be put forth at once. Much reliance is placed on the speech of the senator denouncing the corporations and large industries for the alleged cause of the financial depression, to help his cause in his own state. An announcement is said

With the coming in of the federal grand jury at Madison this afternoon, comes a rare compliment for United States District Attorney W. G. Wheeler of this city. The jury while reported as finding indictments against the bankers of the defunct Ladymith bank, made a long typewritten report of Mr. Wheeler's actions relative to this failure. The document goes into details of the able and thorough manner with which he handled the affair and pays high tribute to the care and thoroughness with which he conducted his work and the wisdom he displayed in handling the matter as he did. They state he acted in accordance with the orders of the department of Justice at Washington and completely exonerated all charges brought by the Catholic priest who charged him with neglect of duty.

Gather to Discuss Recent Decisions of The United States Supreme Court.

EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.

Washington, D. C., March 18.—In response to the recent call of president Shimmon Gompers a large number of labor leaders of national prominence assembled in conference at the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor here today to discuss and take action in regard to the recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court concerning labor. Some of the decisions recently handed down by the supreme tribunal have dealt the heaviest blows to organized labor in the history of the United States. One of the most important of these decisions was that which declared illegal the form of boycott practiced by the labor organizations against alleged unfair employers. Another decision of equal or even greater importance was that delivered by the supreme court in the so-called "butterfly" case, in which it was decided that a labor organization is financially responsible for damage suffered by an employer through a boycott instituted by a labor organization.

As there is no appeal from the supreme court the labor leaders are at sea as to what course to pursue in the matter. It is probable, however, that some form of legislative relief will be sought at the hands of congress.

Paris, March 18.—The inn of a man named Blachier near Bordeaux had long been known locally as the "Red House," or "Inn of Blood," on account of the evil reputation it acquired under the management of the man and the number of bad characters of both sexes who frequented it. It stood near a railway station, and women, it was declared, used to decoy travelers into the inn, where they were either cheated at cards or drugged and robbed. Several persons who entered the inn were never seen alive again, nor were their bodies discovered.

The police were unable to bring in a substantial case against Blachier until the body of an insurance agent, who was known to have gone to the house, was found in the river, bearing a number of dagger wounds. The notorious innkeeper and a number of alleged accomplices have now been arrested and charged with the murder.

ONLY LIVING EX-PRESIDENT CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY

Grover Cleveland Observes Seventy-First Anniversary At Home In Princeton.

EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.

Princeton, N. J., March 18.—Grover Cleveland, the only living ex-president of the United States, was seventy-one years old today. Though he has lived in practical retirement since he left the White House more than ten years ago Mr. Cleveland has not, by any means been forgotten by his former political associates, his personal friends and his legion of admirers. This was evidenced today by the receipt of countless letters and messages of congratulation at the Cleveland home in this city. The felicitous greeting came from all sections of the country and from men and women in all walks of life and of all shades of political belief.

Mr. Cleveland will take no part in the coming presidential campaign. His intentions in this regard have been made plain to friends who have approached him on the subject.

The anti-trust element among the Democrats of New Jersey would like to have had Mr. Cleveland go to the Denver convention as a delegate from this state. Old-line Democrats in New York and throughout the East would Cleveland could not be persuaded to give his consent. It is possible that the events of the coming campaign may so shape themselves as to bring from the ex-president a formal statement setting forth his views on the questions at issue, but he has given his friends to understand that so far as any public appearance or speech-making goes he must be counted out.

Whenever the subject is broached Mr. Cleveland does not hesitate to reiterate his determination to resist all temptations to return to public life. He has steadfastly taken the position that any American who has been called to the presidency has received the highest honor in the gift of the American people and that to accept any other public office or to mix in politics would not only be selfish, but anti-climax.

At seventy-one years of age Mr. Cleveland is still in the enjoyment of pretty good health, thanks to his fishing and hunting trips and other forms of outdoor enjoyment. In magazine articles, in his conversation or his lectures to the students of Princeton, all the old power and clearness of thought are there.

EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.

Des Moines, Ia., March 18.—The republican convention which is to name four delegates at large to the national convention and instruct them for Taft, to endorse Senator Allison and adopt a platform calling for revision of the tariff, was called to order at 11 o'clock today by Frank P. Woods, chairman of the state central committee. He surrendered the gavel to Attorney General H. W. Byers, the temporary chairman, who made an eloquent address which aroused the delegates to much enthusiasm. At the conclusion of Byers' speech the result of the various district caucuses was reported and the convention adjourned until 2 p.m. to await their reports.

Throughout the morning the working of the tariff revision plank platform was the subject of discussion among the Allison men. Numerous suggestions were debated, and when the convention adjourned in the afternoon to await their reports, the withdrawal in favor of Frank W. Weak Women

To weak and failing women, there is at least one way to help, but that with any two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

The Night Cure is a Nightingale, a topical mucous membrane supporting remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment.

The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, helping the results of all parts.

The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It softens and relaxes all mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and strengthens the restorative, ease the tension, relax the muscles, and add to the strength and health of the system.

FORTY YEARS AGO

JANESEVILLE Daily Gazette, Wednesday, March 18, 1868.—Presentation at Milton.—The students at Milton College took occasion on Tuesday evening last, to present Prof. A. Whitford with a fine watch and chain as a mark of their esteem. The Professor has had charge of the College during the absence of the President, W. C. Whitford, who represented the district in the late Legislature, and has discharged his duties in an acceptable manner to all concerned as this beautiful testimonial bears evidence.

Planting of Shade Trees.—The son of the year is now at hand when shade trees are planted. This matter is of more importance than appears at first sight, and has been brought before the attention of the citizens for several years. A number of our property owners have taken action in the matter, and have demolished their premises with shade trees, but there is great chance out of ten some of these Managers will quote the President's words on us, "When you hear a man prating about the Constitution, spot there, but the whole city with shade-him."

MEANS A FIGHT

The opposition to Senator La Follette's having the solid delegation of the state behind him when the national republican convention meets in Chicago, has taken definite form. Under the name of businessmen the work has been quietly carried on until every district but the seventh and eighth have delegates named for which the free republican electors of the state and such fair-minded democrats as please, can vote for if they see fit on April 7th. The Gazette has been a firm supporter of Secretary Taft, firmly believes he will be nominated, but does not and has not approved of the fight that is being made in his behalf. There are men in the state warmer friends of the big War Secretary than the leaders of the movement to give him part at least of the Wisconsin delegation, who did not desire the old factional fight to be continued. It was not necessary to wage war to the bitter end to assure Taft's nomination. If he is not nominated before Wisconsin is reached on the call of states, he never will be—but he will be. This is a certainty. The fight against the "Chosen Son" only will engender the old fighting spirit that has split the republican party for years. It will not accomplish the desired end and will apparently only give a few disgruntled politicians an opportunity to chuckle in their sleeves, perhaps. This pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for some other fellow to enjoy has been going on in the state for years and it is time to settle down to genuine harmony, not a continual brawling that really exhibits only the sore spots and accomplishes nothing.

WATER

As we come to consider the resources of our own country in a more critical manner it is apparent that we are valuing our water supply with enhanced appreciation.

Not only is this true from the standpoint of cities which are spending hundreds of millions of dollars to insure the health and cleanliness of their inhabitants through the control of water, but it is no less the result of the desire to get a greater service out of the flowing streams and inland lakes than they have hitherto rendered.

It has come to be clear that all these things mean money, and that to neglect them as means of promoting the general welfare is bad business economy. Such foresight is not stopping at the great rivers, but is extending its inquiries far up along the creeks and brooks and rivulets to their very sources in the forest. There they find that the wooded slopes of the hills and the mountains hold the secret of the service of the water supply of the country.

It lies in the power of man, and is a fundamental part of his duty to himself, to see that these mountain slopes shall not be devastated rapidly, but that they shall rather be made to serve as storage reservoirs for water supply to the plains and cities below. Mountain and hill slope must be treated in such a way as to yield a reasonable return to their owners without destroying the possibilities of supplying present and future generations with this necessary element of economical transportation and of decent living.

county fair this coming fall in Janesville is up for consideration at the mass meeting this afternoon. It is a subject that deserves the endorsement of every citizen of Janesville and the immediate vicinity. A county fair would do much for Rock county—one of those good old-fashioned fairs, not a new-fangled midway or Pike arrangement, and there is no reason in the world why Rock county should not have a good, big turnout each year. It need not interfere with the Janesville fair; the two could work in conjunction with convenient dates and both would be aided. It should take rank with the fairs of Jefferson, Waukesha, Green or Lafayette county's annual gathering and become something which would be eagerly looked forward to by all residents of the county.

LOCAL CONCERN

It is of local concern that good and true men be selected for the city and county offices to be filled this year. There are aldermen to be named, supervisors to be selected, Justices of the peace to be nominated, and a city attorney picked out. It is not a matter of purely guesswork to choose men to fill these offices. It needs cool, careful heads to handle the city's business and such men should be selected. On the county board Janesville must have a good representation that will be in harmony for the best interests of the constituents they represent. Veterans should not be pushed away with the hysterical notion that such and such a candidate deserves nomination because he asked for their vote. Exercise your rights of franchise and choose good and true men to represent your interests. The primaries are less than a week away and much can be done in the last few days of any campaign, so take time now to consider whom you will vote for.

That speech against using the bonds of railroads to guarantee a currency issue as provided for in the Aldrich bill, made in the senate yesterday after the provision had been stricken out by the finance committee, was a sort of a farce. It was real mean of the committee to steal the thunder of the speaker in that way and never tell him of it.

SLIGHT TO AMERICAN FLAG.
Placed Below Irish Emblem by British Captain at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., Mar. 18.—When Capt. Moore of the British steamer Howthhead of Belfast, Ireland, here for a cargo, dressed ship Tuesday in honor of St. Patrick, he put the green emblem above the Stars and Stripes. This violation of the United States law that requires Old Glory to be at the top when displayed in a United States port, was promptly called to the commander's attention by a government inspector but he refused to comply with the law.

Not until he received a formal demand from the United States collector of customs of this port, accompanied by an order for the revenue cutter to stand ready and a threat to call the gunboat into service unless the order of the flags was reversed, did the Irish skipper yield, and then only to haul down the American flag and leave with the green one.

Mississippi Bankers Indicted.

Jackson, Miss., Mar. 18.—The Illinois grand jury Tuesday indicted W. J. Rice, president, and L. E. Schilling, organizer of the Central bank of Mississippi, which was placed in the hands of a receiver a few days ago. They are charged with embezzlement, receiving deposits when the bank was insolvent and obtaining money under false pretenses. Schilling is under arrest and Rice is a fugitive from justice.

Phone Regulation in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., Mar. 18.—The lower house Tuesday passed the senate telephone regulation measure, with the addition of an amendment imposing a $5 to $50 fine for eavesdropping over a telephone. The measure also provides for separate booths for blacks and whites.

DISPOSED OF BY WILL"Richest Man in Indiana" Leaves Most of His Property to His Relatives.

South Bend, Ind., Mar. 18.—The will of James Oliver, richest man in Indiana, was filed for probate Tuesday in the St. Joseph circuit court. Family ties are shown in the distribution of the vast fortune, which is reported to be from $50,000,000 to $63,000,000.

The will, although disposing of several million dollars, gives but a scant idea of the magnitude of the estate, the bulk of which is left to Joseph D. Oliver, son of the deceased, to be administered by means of a trust fund. The beneficiaries named in the will are as follows: Mrs. Joseph D. Oliver, $25,000; George Ford, son-in-law, $25,000; J. D. Oliver, son, income of $25,000 a year; Mrs. George Ford, daughter, income of $25,000 a year. Nephews and nieces of six brothers and sisters whose names are not mentioned, $1,000 each.

In addition to the bequest, the trustee is directed to pay to Joseph Oliver, son, and Mrs. George Ford, daughter, upon request from them a sum not to exceed $100,000, providing, however, that no payment shall be made which shall diminish the amount of the trust estate to such an extent as to impair its ability to earn a sufficient net income to pay the sum of $50,000 a year to the son and daughter.

The estate will eventually be distributed among the grandchildren when the youngest, Gertrude, shall have reached the age of 30 years.

Stoessel Must Go to Prison.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 18.—The emperor Tuesday confirmed the death sentence passed upon Lieut. Gen. Stoessel, and also the court's recommendation for commutation of the sentence to ten years' imprisonment in a fortress. The former commander of Port Arthur ineffectually petitioned for a full pardon.

Furnish Ball for Riotous Boys of Michigan University.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Mar. 18.—All the University of Michigan students arrested Monday night in a riot at the Star theater are at liberty, but 15 of them had to furnish $1,000 bail each, after being led into Justice Doty's court and back to their cells like hardened criminals, handcuffed and under a heavy police guard. Three students pleaded guilty on a charge of loitering and were fined $4.85 each. The 15 who gave bail will have their examinations Friday morning on charge of rioting. As soon as the boys were arraigned and their bail was fixed local business men came to their aid with offers of bail, the required amount being promptly furnished in each case.

Prison for Bogus Marshal.

Lima, O., Mar. 18.—Earl Hesser, boy, playing the part of a deputy United States marshal from Cleveland, caused the arrest of a number of ruffian employees here, at Galion and Crestline, was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary by Judge Quall Tuesday. After making his "arrests" and handcuffing his prisoners, Hesser would deliberately rob them.

Bullock Foiled in Odd Way.

Chicago, Mar. 18.—George B. McGuire, who said he recently had been manager of the Park and Duval hotels at Jacksonville, Fla., attempted to kill himself Tuesday by jumping down an elevator shaft from the seventh floor of the Auditorium building. He landed on an ascending car at the fourth floor and was not injured seriously.

'What Do You Want When You Choose a Dentist?'

The very first essential is "good work."

"Any old thing" won't do when it comes to work in your mouth.

Another desirability is "Painless work."

A careful, conscientious, painstaking operator like Dr. Richards uses every possible means at hand to avoid causing you pain.

A third feature which enters quite a figure is "Reasonable Prices."

They say you can pay $2,000 for an automobile, or you can get a good serviceable machine for $1,000 if you wish. Some makers get far more than others for their output.

It is the same in Dentistry.

Some Dentists prefer to do a small practice at large prices to each individual.

Others like Dr. Richards, prefer to do a large practice at a smaller fee from each patient.

Dr. Richards has fixed up many a decayed tooth for 75c, and sent the patient away so satisfied in every way that he has sent all his family and friends for their work.

Wherever he might have charged the man $2,000 and never seen him again.

Sum it up and you find it about this way—

SENTIMENT FOR FAIR IS STRONG

EXPRESSIONS OF OPINION ALL FAVORABLE AT MEETING TODAY.

$10,000 TO LAUNCH IT

J. M. Bostwick Will Donate Use of Grounds Free First Season—Morgan of Detroit Wants Grounds Purchased.

Seventy-five business men and farmers, including representatives of Bradford, LaPrarie, Deloit, and some of the other towns, attended the meeting called at the city hall this afternoon to determine upon the advisability of organizing a movement for a county fair in Janesville this fall. Charles H. Putnam called the session to order and after a general discussion of the feasibility of the proposed, gave the estimates and terms offered by J. M. Bostwick, the owner of the grounds.

He thought it would take at least $10,000 to start the enterprise in a proper way. Mr. Bostwick offers to donate the use of the grounds the first year and will accept $1,000 a year rental for the succeeding four years and $1,200 a year for the balance of the period under a ten-year contract.

Permanent buildings will belong to the association and may be removed at the time the contract expires if deemed advisable. Throughout the tenure the association may have an option on the purchase of the 40 acres comprising the premises. One hundred 8x12 stalls will have to be built at a cost of $2,500; the track put into shape at a cost of $100; a porch placed on the grandstand; a portion of the board fence repaired and the balance of the enclosure fenced in with wire; canvas roofs tenanted for the poultry exhibit and restaurants; and sheep and swine pens built. Horticulture hall is in fair shape and can be made available with some repair.

A representative of Mr. Morgan of Deloit stated that he would become financially interested in the proposed, only on condition that it was made a permanent affair at the outset, arrangements being made to purchase the grounds and provide a sinking fund to tide the association over one or two seasons. His experience with the Deloit fair had been such that he would have no more to do with makeshift propositions.

On motion of Victor P. Richardson the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of three to co-operate with himself in the selection of two representatives in each township to canvass the farmers and see if they could be interested financially in such a proposition. This committee is to report at another meeting to be held subject to the call of the chairman.

On motion of James Scott the chair was delegated to get Mr. Bostwick's lowest figure for the purchase of the grounds.

Among those who expressed themselves enthusiastic terms regarding the project were: Joseph Humphrey, John Igou of La Prarie, H. D. McKinney, William Jones, Frank Touch of Harmony, and H. L. McNamara. The question of half mile track was not decided a second time, as a concession might be easily made at a small cost.

On motion of Mr. Touch the price of stock was fixed at $10 a share and the canvassing will be made on this basis.

FINISH JURY CASES IN CIRCUIT COURT

Last Jury Case of the Calendar For the February Term Tried Today.

Today in the circuit court the case of John Waldman vs. August Gobrecht was tried. The trial was long and the arguments began about three thirty and the case went to the jury later. The case, in which the plaintiff sued for the price of a stamp-puller which the defendant had purchased, was unsatisfactory, is the last jury case on the calendar for the February term.

Judge Grunow will return to Jefferson tonight or tomorrow morning and for the rest of the week will be busy finishing up some work he has in the Jefferson county circuit court. On Monday next he will go to Green county for the March term of the circuit court there. There are twenty-six cases on the Green county calendar, and sixteen of them jury cases. When the jury cases are finished Judge Grunow will return to Janesville and try the cases of fact and law for the court which are up for the February term.

THREE JURY TERMS FOR THIS COUNTY

New Law Calls for Three Jury Terms a Year Instead of Two as Formerly.

By chapter 278 of the laws of 1907, amending section 2421 of the statutes relating to the terms of court in the various judicial districts, Rock county is to have three jury terms a year instead of two as formerly, section 2424, subdivision 43, of the Revised Statutes relating to the twelfth circuit provides as follows as to Rock county: "In the county of Rock county, on the fourth Monday of February, and on the first Monday of May, and the first Monday of October,

"No jury shall be summoned for either of the terms to be held in June unless the judge enter an order therefor to be recorded in the clerk's office fifteen days before the first day of any such term."

The subdivision regarding the June terms refers to Jefferson and Green counties, each of which have June term.

Heretofore there has been only two jury terms in Rock county—one in February and one in October. This amendment of the last legislature therefore adds one more jury term to do with makeshift propositions.

On motion of Victor P. Richardson the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of three to co-operate with himself in the selection of two representatives in each township to canvass the farmers and see if they could be interested financially in such a proposition.

On motion of James Scott the chair was delegated to get Mr. Bostwick's lowest figure for the purchase of the grounds.

NEWS FROM NEAR-BY NEIGHBORS

CLINTON.

Clinton, March 17.—House cleaning and spring papering has already commenced.

Since the fire, as well as for some weeks before, the L. L. Olds Seed Co. has been receiving orders by the thousands daily, the number being far greater than ever before, thus making their loss in the way of profits far more than just the loss of the building and stock, upon which, of course, there was no insurance to help them out even in part.

H. A. Anderson is still confined to the house.

Dr. Griswold is some better, but still very weak.

Fred Herron has been confined to the house by sickness for the past few days.

Aside from paying all expenses the Citizen's Lecture Course will have a few dollars left. There will probably be another number added to the list for next season and tickets should go rapidly.

Menomonie, at which place the state Press Association recently held its fifty-fifth annual meeting, is surely a wonderfully pleasant, thrifty, wide awake and enterprising little city.

Unfortunately it is a little off the main line of the railway but otherwise is finely located, having good water, excellent drainage, fine surrounding country, a very hospitable class of citizens, large business blocks, good stores, mills, factories, etc., but where it takes the lead is in its schools, as there a person can find anything desired in the way of educational advantages, such as the immense and thoroughly up-to-date Stout Training School, the County Agricultural schools, the city high school three parochial schools, the grade and kindergarten schools for the several wards. In addition to these there is a wonderfully fine Memorial hall, free to everyone and things in that county, in which there are rooms for the G. A. R., a public library, auditorium, which is thoroughly equipped with all modern appliances, which he maintains, and in which the Commercial club, composed of nearly every business and professional man of the city, has its home. The cost of the school buildings alone represent a cost of $100,000. Many of the buildings are of brick, which are manufactured there and which are said to be of more than ordinarily good quality.

Stewart G. Lake has recently purchased the Patchin place, for years occupied by E. G. Eldridge and wife, which he will greatly improve and afterwards move into.

There is no doubt but what the new capital is to be a building that all will be proud of. The west wing is now rapidly nearing completion, as to its outer wall. The old east wing is down and excavating is being done for the foundation. The tunnel is also being dug for the connection with the new heating plant, to be erected some one-half mile from the state building. The wall of the new wing is certainly handsome, can not help but be durable and the whole, when completed will surely be a magnificent structure.

A GOOD BREAKFAST FOR

Start the day right by eating a breakfast that gives the greatest amount of mental and physical strength with the least tax upon the digestion. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with a pint of hot milk will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work—and the cost is about five cents.

For breakfast heat the Biscuit in oven, pour milk over it (hot milk in winter) and add a little cream. If you like the Biscuit for breakfast you will like TOASTED TRISCUIT (the Shredded Wheat wafer) for luncheon or any meal with butter, cheese, or marmalade. At your grocer.

TALE OF COLD BLOODED MURDER

Woman and Two Men Arrested for Brutal Crime.

WHEELING, W. Va., Mar. 18.—Charles Cook, 17 years old, his wife Lila, 20 years, and Joseph White, 21 years, were arrested Tuesday in connection with the death of Charles Bennett, 20 years old, of New Kensington, Pa., whose body was found in the Ohio river at Weirton, five miles south of here, September 21 last. The three persons arrested are all of this city and it is alleged have confessed to the murder which they say occurred on the night of September 21, 1907.

According to the alleged confession, Mrs. Cook, who was Miss Lila Zane, a member of a prominent family, enticed Bennett, who was a book agent, to a park where he was to be robbed. Cook and White set upon Bennett, and it is said, killed him. Then it is alleged Cook and Miss Zane were married and took a trip on $35 taken from Bennett.

Call for Strike Responded to by 3,000
In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 18.—The 3,500 unemployed employees in the St. Louis breweries were notified Tuesday afternoon to strike, as a result of a factional quarrel in Beer Drivers' local, No. 43. The call for the strike was issued by officials of the International United Brewery Workers of America after a fruitless conference with the representatives of the breweries.

A strike was instituted soon after the issuance of the notification and about 3,000 men walked out. The strikers took their coats and left the

SPEAR CONTRADICTS HOBSON.
WASHINGTON, Mar. 18.—The statement of Representative Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama before the special committee of the house investigating the charges made by Representative George Liley of Connecticut, that he had been approached by a representative of the Electric Boat company who offered to use his influence with the speaker to have Mr. Hobson placed on the naval affairs committee if he "stood right for submarines," was contradicted before that committee Tuesday by Lawrence Spear, the former naval officer who Mr. Hobson had spoken to him. Mr. Spear said he had not made any promise to secure the influence of Speaker Cannon or any one else and that he never had tried to influence them; in fact, he said, he did not know the speaker.

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 18.—William Krueger, 21 years of age, opened fire upon a crowd of men and women in a restaurant Tuesday night and instantly killed Edward Druehl, 40 years old, severely wounded James Harr, and then attempted to commit suicide. It is believed he will die.

THE MYSTERY

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE
And SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY MCCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

the turmoil of our nerves that day found us sitting wan about a fire, hugging our knees. We were so genuinely emptied, not so much by the cricket as by the two years of fermentation, that not one of us stirred toward breakfast. In fact, not one of us moved from the listless attitude in which day found him until after 9 o'clock. Then we pulled ourselves together and cooked coffee and salt horse. As a significant fact, the dinner left the dishes unwashed, and no one cared.

Handy Solomon finally shook himself and arose.

"I'm sick of this," said he. "I'm going to hunt."

They arose without a word. They were sick of it, too—sick to death. We were a silent, gloomy crew indeed as we thrust the surfboard about, chambered it and slipped the oars. No one spoke a word; no one had a comment to make, even when we saw the rocky ridge into the water while we were still fifty yards from the beach. We pulled back slowly along the coast. Beyond the rock we made out the entrance to the dry cave.

"There's sand in there!" cried Handy Solomon. "Lots of 'em!"

He thrust the rudder over, and we headed for the cave. No one expressed an opinion.

As it was again high tide, we rowed in to the steep shore inside the cave's mouth and beached the boat. The place was full of seals. We could hear them bellowing.

"Two of you stand here," shouted Handy Solomon, "and take them as we go out! We'll go in and scare 'em down to you!"

"They'll run over us!" screamed Pult.

"No, they won't. You can dodge up the sides when they go by."

This was indeed well possible, so we gripped our clubs and ventured into the darkness.

We advanced four abreast, for the cave was wide enough for that. As we penetrated the bellowing and barking became more deafening. It was impossible to see anything, although we felt an indistinguishable tumbling mass receding before our footsteps. Thrackles awoke violently as he stumbled over a laggard. With uncanny abruptness the black wall of darkness in front of us was alive with fiery eyeballs. The seals had reached the end of the cave and had turned toward us. We, too, stopped, a little uncertain as to how to proceed.

The first seal had been to get behind the band and drive it slowly toward the entrance to the cave. This was now seen to be impossible. The cavern was too narrow, its sides at this point too steep and the animals too thickly congregated. Our eyes, becoming accustomed to the twilight, now began to make out dimly the individual bodies of the seals and the general configuration of the rock. One big boulder lay directly in our path, like an island in the shade of the cave's floor. Pulton stepped to the top of it for a better look. The men attempted to communicate their ideas of what was to be done, but could not make themselves heard above the uproar. I could see their faces contorting with the fury of being baffled. A big bull made a dash to get by. All the herd flipped after him. If he had won past, they would have followed as obstinately as sheep and nothing could have stopped them, but the big bull went down beneath the clubs. Thrackles hit the animal two clubbed blows after it had succumbed.

This settled the revolt, and we stood as before. Pult and Handy Solomon tried to converse by signs, but evidently failed, for their faces showed angry in the twilight. Pulton, on his rock, rolled and lit a cigarette. Thrackles puffed to his club farther down the cave. They had been left at the entrance, but now in lack of results had joined their companions.

Now Thrackles approached and screened himself black trying to impart some plan. He failed, but stooped and picked up a stone and threw it into the mass of seals. The others understood. A shower of stones followed. The animals milled like cattle, bellowed the louder, but would not face their tormentors. Finally an old cow hopped by in a panic. I thought they would have let her go, but she died a little beyond the bull. No more followed, although the men threw stones as fast and as hard as they were able. Their faces were hide with anger, like that of an evil tempered man with an obstinate horse.

Suddenly Handy Solomon put his head down and with a roar distinctly audible even above the din that filled the cave charged directly into the herd. I saw the beasts cringe before him. I saw his club rising and falling like lightning, and then the whole pack of the cave seemed to roar and come at us.

This was no chance for sport now, but a struggle for very life. We realized that once down there would be no hope, for while the seals were more anxious to escape than to fight we knew that their jaws were powerful. There was no time to pick and choose. We lit out with all the strength and quickness we possessed. It was like a bad dream, like struggling with an elusive hydra headed monster, knee high, invulnerable. We lit, but with no apparent effect. New heads rose, the press behind increased. We gave ground. We staggered, struggling des-

GROVER CLEVELAND, HIS WIFE AND THEIR RESIDENCE AT PRINCETON, N.J.

Princeton, N. J., March 18.—Today Grover Cleveland is celebrating his only way, his seventy-first birthday. Although many reports have been current lately to the effect that he is still today finds him comparatively perpetually to keep our feet.

How long this lasted I cannot tell. It seemed hours. I know my arms became leaden from swinging my clubs. My eyes were full of sweat. My breath gasped. A sharp pain in my knee nearly doubled me to the ground, and yet I remember clamping to the thought that I must keep my feet, keep my feet at any cost. Then all at once I recalled the fact that I was armed. I jerked out the short barreled revolver and turned it loose in their faces.

Whether the flash and detonation frightened them, whether Pulton, still clinging to his rock, managed to turn their attention by his shouting efforts or whether, quite simply, the wall of death finally turned them back I do not know, but with one accord they gave over the attempt.

I looked at once for Handy Solomon and was surprised to see him still alive, standing upright on a ledge the other side of the herd. His clothing was literally torn to shreds, and he was covered with blood. But in this plight he was not alone, for when I turned toward my companions they, too, were tattered, torn and gory. We were a dreadful crew, standing there in the half light, our chests heaving, our rays dripping red.

For perhaps ten seconds no one moved. Then with a yell of demoniac rage my companions clambered over the rampart of dead seals and attacked the herd.

When a medicine has stood the test for a period of more than two generations and is then more popular than ever, there can be no doubt of its merit. This is the record of S. S. S. Its period of existence is marked by a long line of cures of blood and skin diseases of every character, and its value in the treatment of such troubles has become so well known that it is today the most extensively used blood medicine on the market. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases and all other troubles due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, S. S. S. has no equal. It counteracts and drives out the poisons, humors and germs, cleanses the system of all unhealthy matter, cures the disease permanently and restores strong, robust health. DEEP-SEA SOUNDING

NATURAL LAW AS WORKING BASIS

HOW IT HAS REVOLUTIONIZED SPIRITUAL AND MATERIAL LIFE.

WAS SOCIAL UNION SUBJECT

Changes Wrought by Science in Religion, Manufacturing, Building, Foods, and Printing Discussed.

"Scientific Research and Its Effects on Theology and Religion" was a subject not on the regular program of the Social Union club last evening, but discussed briefly and in a most illuminating manner by Rev. Richard M. Vaughan. The truest contribution of science, he said, has been the scientific spirit, which is nothing more than the quest for truth. It has made possible and precluded and asked: "What are the facts?" Because of this temper and attitude vast changes have taken place. In the supposedly deterministic doctrine of evolution has been discovered the absolute unity of the universe. Its interest to theology lies in the divine luminance or divine indwelling of God, which is its necessary postulate. It has recast the whole system of thought concerned with inspiration and the miracles.

Religion is the life of God in the soul of man and theology is our theory of religion.

One important effect of science on religion relates to the question of authority. "To settle what has authority and may impose obedience has been one of religion's most important problems.

The method of theology has been to appeal to the external. In the middle ages all problems relating to the question of authority were settled with finality by quotations from the Scriptures, or the Fathers, or the philosophers.

Protestants and Catholics have both been in error from the modern scientific standpoint. The Protestant exponents have told us to abandon reason and believe the Bible from cover to cover, and Cardinal Richard, who died in Paris the other day, said that if the Church had decreed that black was white, he would have felt it incumbent on him to believe.

The scientific temper worships only Kipling's "God of things as they are," it seeks truth for authority, not authority for truth. If the church teaches truth, then it is authority—not because the church teaches it but because it is true.

How do we know what is true without external authority? How do we know that the sunshine is good and that 2 plus 2 is 4? The man who insists on external authority does not believe in the power of truth to control itself. The man who accepts external authority is the non-believer. For he does not dare trust himself to the spiritual forces and their power to spiritual forces and their power to certify themselves as true.

The one compilation of the life of Jesus was made 1,500 years ago. The scientific spirit is giving us the real Jesus of Nazareth. Instead of having the Bible as a hard and fixed revelation, we are coming to know it as a progressive revelation of all types of literature, all stages of human development. Therefore the myth of Genesis. The scientific spirit is helping us to understand that salvation is not a commercial transaction but an inner and vital clinging to ourselves.

All lines of religious distinction are breaking down and everywhere a new fellowship is growing up. The astronomers are in unity today because they have laid aside the preconceptions of the Ptolemaic system and ask only for the truth. And so the church's coming unity is to be in this and not in the sayings of the fathers.

Ladies' Night Five Weeks Hence
The monthly supper given by the organization was well attended and during the course of the announcements made preliminary to the program it was stated that the final Ladies' Night entertainment would probably take place five weeks, instead of four weeks, hence. The program committee which served this season was re-elected for the ensuing year. In addition to the papers read last evening, very enjoyable musical numbers were given by Dr. E. B. Lofboro, who gave several banjo selections; Len Mathews, who sang several Irish melodies; and Allen Dinehart, who played "The Storm" and several novelty variations. "Along the Wabash," on the piano. Dr. A. L. Burdick was leader and the subject was "The Value of Silence to the Various Industries and Conditions of Life." Several speakers who protested that they were scarcely on speaking terms with "Silence" and had been unable to make any original researches, filled in the gaps with generous slices of wholesome advice to young men.

Science and Manufactures

Andrew J. Gibbons told of the revolution in manufacturing wrought by the factory system; the wonderful development of the steel industry through the application of chemistry in the manufacture of Bessemer; the new methods of extracting the sap and tannic acid from lumber by steam which now make it possible to convert the standing tree into a finished table within two months instead of a year; and of glue as an all-important factor in the furniture industry. Prof. John Arbuthnot said that the Germans lead the world in the economy of their manufacturing industries because the factories worked hard in hand with the universities. Paintstriking methods, leaving nothing whatever to chance, prevented any waste of effort. All the world, for instance, had to go to the Germans for pure chemicals. In this country the German method of co-operating with the institutions of higher learning was being emulated by the University of Kansas and Industries in that state.

Science and Architecture

W. H. Blair chronicled some of Science's great strides in architecture. The first skyscraper, he said, was the steel-frame Home Insurance building erected in Chicago in 1885 and this had brought about a revolution in the building industry within a quarter of a century. Problems of wind-resistance, fire and water-proofing, unequal expansion, and foundations which had to go down to bed-rock, were explained and dealt with in a very interesting manner.

Its Crimes Against Food

Some of the crimes of science against a few of the 1,000 articles of everyday consumption and the eradication of these evils by the pure food laws were discussed in a most interesting manner by L. K. Cribsey. In passing he deplored the reduction in the consumption of tea in America from 7 lbs. to 1 lb. per capita and took occasion to remark that the breakfast food was the greatest nothing-for-something swindle of the age. The laboring man who takes a ten-cent six-cent package to his home is paying $1.00 for a bushel of wheat "fussed up and put in fancy packages."

The Printing Art

A very clear exposition of some of the new mysteries of the printing art—the type setting and type-casting machines, stereotyping, zinc-etching, half-tone work, and color printing—was given by Charles H. Mohr and the tragic story of the invention of the linotype by Mergenthaler, a German clock-maker, who died penless of a broken-heart, was related.

Pure Food and Average Life

Dr. Q. O. Sutherland was unable to be present and the subject of "Science in Its Relation to the Public Health" was not discussed. Dr. E. E. Loomis, however, in discussing a phase of the pure food agitation, said that statistics had shown that for the past ten years the average life of the American citizen had been growing shorter. The cause might be traced in part to the wholesale use of adulterants in food, not always in themselves poisons but productive of indigestion when combined with the acid and digestive juices of the human body. With the abolition of these abuses the pendulum of average life might be expected to swing the other way.
